COVID-19

We understand things are changing rapidly for community organisations as we face the challenge of COVID-19. We recognise the funding landscape this year and possibly moving forward will look very different for charities, and that many of you will be adjusting and adapting to new ways to deliver services. We also recognise that community needs will continue to change. If you have any questions at all about what we can grant to in this funding round, please get in touch and we are happy to have a discussion with you.

PRIORITIES FOR WHĀNAU/FAMILIES

The priorities of the Whānau/Families focus area are to support organisations or projects that:

- Work with whānau/families experiencing multiple and intergenerational disadvantage
- Put whānau/families at the centre
- Use kaupapa Māori models of practice*
- Work holistically
- Focus on long-term solutions
- Work in collaboration

 Kaupapa Māori theory is based on a number of key elements or principles – Māori approach, Māori topic, Māori customary practice, Māori institution, Māori agenda, Māori principles, Māori ideology – a philosophical doctrine, incorporating the knowledge, skills, attitudes and values of Māori society. Led by Māori, with Māori for Māori.*

WHAT DOES THIS LOOK LIKE?

Initiatives should be focused on positive outcomes, and long-term solutions that see our tamariki/children, rangatahi/young people and their whānau/families be resilient, secure and thriving.

These positive outcomes can be delivered by:

Supporting the wellbeing of tamariki/children through their early years by:

- Enhancing the capability of parents.
- Supporting early childhood development, including language and literacy development, and social behaviour skills.

Supporting the wellbeing of rangatahi/young people by:

- Promoting a positive youth development sector and growing its capacity.
- Focusing on early intervention/prevention strategies for young people.
- Supporting initiatives that promote identity and participation and equality of young people, particularly youth-led initiatives.
- Working systemically to address youth employment, especially for those most distanced from the labour market.
- Supporting and advocating for children and young people, especially children in care, or the prevention of children needing to be taken into care.
- Investing in the equality of women, young women, gender-diverse and intersex people.

- Increasing the economic participation and employment of groups or families experiencing multiple disadvantage across generations.

Supporting the wellbeing of whānau/families by:

- Providing and assisting families into stable, healthy and affordable housing — especially home ownership.
- Supporting the wellbeing of families in a holistic way, ensuring that their goals and aspirations are at the centre.
- Promoting violence-free homes.
- Strengthening the identity and culture of families.

Projects that can demonstrate as many of these priorities and criteria as possible will have a greater chance of receiving support.

You can read more about these priorities of the Family/Whānau focus area on The Tindall Foundation's website.
